The Buzz About Evangelism

On Monday, I had the opportunity to attend our monthly preacher's meeting. We discussed ways in which local congregations in the St. Louis area were using to edify and build up the church where each preacher preached. The first two participants in the meeting discussed how they were directing the local body toward more evangelistic efforts. It was refreshing to hear how other congregations were also becoming involved in this very important work.

The work of evangelism has to stay in the forefront of our minds so we can help the local church grow. There should always be a buzz about evangelism at every congregation because it is the lifeblood of any local church. Here are some ways we can keep evangelism before us as a congregation:

1. Continue to preach and teach about the subject.
2. Pray that the work of evangelism will be a priority at the local church.
3. Let the church see evangelism in action among members.
4. Evangelism should be emphasized in bulletins, announcements, bulletin boards, etc.
5. It must be the top priority of local leadership.
6. Each member need to realize that the Son of God came to earth to seek and save the lost, and we are trying to follow after His example.

I hope we can continue to make evangelism a part of our everyday routine and do all that we can to keep the buzz of evangelism going.
